

Anderson County SOIL & WATER CONSERVATION DISTRICT

Conservationist of the Year Award

Conservationist of the Year Award recognizes a person or organization that has had a positive impact or has been a good steward of Anderson County's natural resources. This may include, but is not limited to; farmers, school groups, companies, industries, and civic organizations.

Procedure:

Submit a brief narrative describing the nominee's qualifications and conservation related activities to the Anderson County Soil and Water Conservation District.

Award: Winners will be awarded a certificate and $100.

Deadline: March 25, 2022

Please contact Pamela Richey if you have any questions or need further information.